Pavel Kubat worked in our company more than one year as a web developer and during this time he created many web sites, improved and debugged existing web sites including large e-shops.

He has extensive experiences with all web technologies like HTML, PHP, CSS, ASP.NET, JavaScript, standards like XHTML and he is familiar with SEO, too. We develop web sites mostly in PHP, so major part of his works were created in this language.

He also developed for us some applications in C#, which communicate thru Internet and exchange data with one another. We use them for downloading needful data from many servers now.

Pavel Kubat is skilful man, who learns quickly new technologies, his works are high quality and I really recommend him.

Best regards,
